Full job description

Your new company

Our company is a national concrete and asphalt specialist, renowned for their service, expertise, and dedication to sustainability. Their current lab technician is retiring after a long tenure, so our client is looking to replace that person. They hire on personality, not skill set – if you have the good stuff, they can teach the rest!

Your new role

As a lab technician, you'll be testing cement and concrete, but this is no white coat job! Once you're trained up, you'll be out on site on a regular base. Given you're on site, you'll also be the face of the business, so you'll be personable and have the gift of the gab. While there's no excessive lifting, it is a physical job, so having a base-line fitness is a must.

What you'll need to succeed

- White Card
- Mechanical or engineering aptitude
- Great attitude and ability to fit into any team
- Desire to learn new skills

What you'll get in return

- Permanent role
- Company car
- Option for travel and overtime down the track
